*In case the issuing country is not a member state to the Apostille Convention (Convention of 5 October 1961 Abolishing the Requirement of Legalisation for Foreign Public Documents; visit <http://www.apostilleinfo.com/> to see if the country is a member or not), DIPLOMATIC ATTESTATION shall be applied as follows:

A true copy of the birth certificate, a true copy of the marriage certificate and the original police clearance certificate shall be attested by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MOFA) of the country that issued the document. This is done by the MOFA placing a stamp on the document. By placing the stamp on the document MOFA certifies that the document is issued by the proper authority and this is the first step to make a document ready to be used in a foreign country. Following the attestation at the MOFA, the document shall be attested by the Hungarian diplomatic mission (consulate or embassy) working in (credited to) the respective country. The Hungarian diplomatic mission certifies that the MOFA stamp is original, thus making the document ready to be used in a foreign country.

*In case the issuing country is a member to the Apostille Convention an APOSTILLE shall be affixed to the document only and no MOFA and consular attestation is needed. This is done by the competent authority (for that visit: <http://www.apostilleinfo.com/>).
